Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 68 and 74 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The original disclosure was silent as to the adjustable stop member being an adjustable knob.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 39-41, 65-68, and 71-74 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 39 – “the opposed tips” in line 5 lacks antecedent basis, the electrodes are not structurally positioned on the tips, and the stop member lacks any structural association with the arms. Claim 40 is indefinite since attempts to define the electrode size in terms of the varying tissue volume to be acted upon. Claim 65 is redundant in that the two arms have previously been set forth. Claim 71 – “the opposed tips” in line 5 lacks antecedent basis and the electrodes are not structurally positioned on the tips.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 39-41, 65-67, and 71-73 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Auth (4,492,231) in view of Goble et al (5,451,224). The basic forceps is disclosed in Figure 2 and includes a stop member 60 as detailed at column 7, line 25+. The stop is selectable to be a specific thickness as set forth at column 7, lines 66-67. This infers the stop may be replaced for the intended procedure. The reference fails to disclose the electrodes on the tips of the arms. Such a feature is disclosed by Goble et al in Figure 4. Given such a teaching, it would have been obvious to the skilled artisan to employ electrodes on the tips of Auth to effect superior treatment since a predictable result would ensue.
